STRENGTHEN YOUR CAREER SUCCESS

Helping others lead more fulfilling lives and relieving them of physical pain is one of the noblest professions of them all. Physiotherapy is one of the fastest growing and most highly sought after medical professions in the world. People of all ages and from all walks of life are in need of the expertise of a physiotherapist, from aging or recovering patients in need of physical rehabilitation all the way to professional athletes suffering from sports injuries. Fully accredited by the Malaysia Qualifications Agency (MQA), the physiotherapy academic programme enables graduates to pursue a rewarding and fulfilling career that can take them anywhere in the world.

INNOVATIVE LEARNING METHODOLOGIES

The programme incorporates the latest education technologies and methodologies combined with proven education techniques to ensure that students maximise their learning experience. BSC (HONS) PHYSIOTHERAPY

This intensive four-year programme combines an extensive practical training element in a clinical environment and a thorough grounding in the medical and anatomical knowledge necessary to prepare graduates for a career as a physiotherapist. The course enables students to professionally assess and treat patients with a programme of physiotherapeutic exercises and corresponding treatment along with the skills needed to identify and correct potential disabilities in patients and their lifestyles before they occur. Students will also be trained in the critical soft skills necessary for success as a practitioner in public or private practice that include problem solving, organisational abilities, communication and management skills.

POPULAR AREAS

MUSCULOSKELETAL PHYSIOTHERAPY AND SPORTS THERAPY

Musculoskeletal physiotherapy treats conditions affecting muscles, bones, joints, ligaments, and tendons, such as back pain, arthritis, and sports injuries. Sports therapy, a specialized branch of musculoskeletal physiotherapy, focuses on preventing, treating, and rehabilitating sports-related injuries such as ACL tears and tendonitis. Through techniques like manual therapy, exercise prescription, and sport-specific conditioning, both aim to restore movement, reduce pain, and enhance performance.

CARDIORESPIRATORY PHYSIOTHERAPY

Cardiorespiratory physiotherapy deals with the prevention, rehabilitation, and management of heart and lung conditions. This includes chronic obstructive pulmonary disease (COPD), asthma, and post-cardiac surgery recovery. Therapists use breathing exercises, airway clearance techniques, and cardiovascular conditioning to improve respiratory function, endurance, and overall cardiovascular health.

GERIATRICS

Geriatrics addresses the unique needs of older adults, focusing on age-related physical changes and conditions such as osteoporosis, osteoarthritis, and balance disorders. Therapists use fall-prevention exercises, strength training, and mobility programmes to improve quality of life, maintain independence, and manage age-related physical decline.

NEUROLOGICAL REHABILITATION

Neurological rehabilitation addresses disorders of the nervous system, such as stroke, Parkinson's disease, multiple sclerosis, and spinal cord injuries. Therapists focus on neuroplasticity-based exercises, balance training, and gait re-education to enhance mobility, coordination, and independence in daily activities. The goal is to help patients regain as much function as possible and improve their quality of life.

WOMEN'S HEALTH AND PAEDIATRIC

Women's health physiotherapy focuses on issues such as pregnancy, postpartum recovery, menopause, and pelvic floor dysfunction. Physiotherapists provide tailored treatments to reduce pain, improve mobility, and restore function. Paediatric physiotherapy addresses developmental and musculoskeletal issues in children, helping them improve movement and coordination. Both areas support individuals at different life stages to maintain optimal health.
